Suggestions for Additional Study of Psalm 91

There is still plenty to study in Psalm 91! If you want to do some study on your own, here are a few ideas to get you started:

- Use the interlinear tool to study the two names mentioned for God in Psalm 91:1 — Most High and Almighty. Look at other verses where these names are used. What do you learn about these names?

- Use the interlinear tool to study the word *"refuge" as it is used in verses 2 and 9. How is it used in other passages of Scripture? Does it always refer to God?

- Search on the words *"dwelling place" in Blue Letter Bible and study all that this phrase encompasses.

- Use the interlinear tool to study the use of the word *"fortress" in Scripture. What do you learn from your study that helps you better understand God being our fortress?

- Search on the word *"angels" in Blue Letter Bible. Study the narratives that record the appearance of angels. What were their roles? To whom did they appear? To whom did they minister? What sort of messages did they deliver?

- Go back through the children's assignments, looking for the ones that referred to specific Bible stories. Study these accounts in the same way we have studied Psalm 91. Mark words, makes lists, do words studies, consult commentaries, read cross-references.

- Use the interlinear tool to study the word *"answer" as used in verse 15. Limit your study to its usage in the psalms and proverbs.

- Use the interlinear tool to study the word *"satisfy" as it is used in verse 16. What does the word mean? How is it used in other passages? Who and /or what gives satisfaction?

- Study the rest of Jesus's temptation in the wilderness in Matthew 4 and Luke 4. In what other ways was Jesus tempted? What were His weapons against Satan? Look at the cross-references related to these two passages. What can you learn from Jesus' example?

- Study the phrase *"fear not" as it is used in Scripture. When is it used and why? What promises are associated with this command? Study narratives that describe the results of trusting God instead of giving in to fear.

- Do a topical study of *"trust." Search on the word, take notes on all the passages that speak of trust, and summarize your findings.

- Do the children's studies with your children, if you didn't use them while you went through the study yourself. You'll learn even more as you teach your children!

- Read and take notes from commentaries on all of Psalm 91 — Matthew Henry and Treasury of David on Blue Letter Bible, and John Gill's Exposition of the Bible on Bible Study Tools.

© 2020 Pam Forster www.mamasrefill.com

For studying other passages:

- Use the same tools and marking methods to study another passage of your choice. What can you observe about God in the passage? What words or ideas are repeated that should be marked and examined? What words can you study with the interlinear to further your understanding? What portions of the passage would benefit from you consulting a commentary?

- Complete another Busy Mamas Bible study on your own, or gather a few friends online or at your home, and do the study at the same time. (Eight of the studies on Mama's Refill are also available for purchase in print and eBook forms at Doorposts.com, or you can choose from the menu of online studies at MamasRefill.com.)

- Study Because You Are Strong and learn some more basic Bible study methods while also studying different passages with your sons.

- Study Beauty in the Heart and learn more basic Bible study methods while studying the topic of godly beauty with your daughters.

- Study the book of Proverbs alone or with your children, using the book Hidden Treasures to guide you.

© 2020 Pam Forster www.mamasrefill.com